Why The Order of the Sinister Moon Is So Great

I am not after wealth, followers or anything else in life besides working towards Aeonic suprapersonal goals that will outlast my causal lifespan and the lifespan of those reading. Only the truly sick, warped and incompetent believe that they cannot achieve anything. Self-pity and self-doubt are sickness which makes the strong timid and restrain themselves. In essence self-pity could be considered the highest form of decadence and degeneracy. Pity for yourself or others is a waste of resources. So is constant worry, constant anxiety, and melancholy. Happiness is in essence an illusion. The type of happiness we are told to pursue by society in particular.

What makes the Order of the Sinister Moon so great? Why is it so different than any other Satanic group? Because of me. It is great because I am great and I am excellent. I am a cut above most people. I am the elite minority. A Satanic elitist and aristocrat. I am full of Aryan Satanic pride. Filled to the brim. I believe in my destiny, my fate and my dreams like no other. And quite frankly could care less if anyone else believes in them. Could care less if anyone wants to join. Could care less if everyone hates me or resents me. I love infamy. All sorts of controversy, offense, and hate from others inspires me to continue. Instead of acting as a deterrent it fuels my fire much like gasoline.

I am a Sinister Genius unlike most you will encounter. I possess the ability for Sinister Influence that few have. I am a natural leader. Unlike most people I refuse to bend my knee or bow to terror or fear. Fear was created to keep you in line. Only the weak feel fear. The strong don't know fear is. They want the glory of death in combat rather than grow old and sick and feeble. They rage against the machine. They storm through like the Blitzkrieg. They are swift and ruthless. They aren't after personal gain but something much more beyond human comprehension. We aspire to be Gods! I am the kingdom, I am the power and I am the glory.

Meekness and humility is encouraged in all major religions. Nazareny especially. So you will bow down to authority. Love thy neighbor. Have a fear of Hell. Have a fear of failure. Have a fear of humiliation. I am a proud National Socialist and proud Satanist. If tomorrow the whole world knew I would care less. I only hide my personal information for now. In due time I will be openly public with who I am. This is more of a tactical decision at present to remain hidden and nameless.

I am engaged in an open vast and treasonous conspiracy. That has far reaching implications but cannot and will not be stopped. I am simply operating on a level beyond what most people are capable of so I inspire envy. However, I am great because in essence I have something most people don't HONOR. I have HONOR and LOYALTY to the Cause. What cause exactly is it? Overthrowing all Western governments, seeing them burnt to ashes and from the ashes build the Dark Imperium. Never again perhaps will the banner will fly as it did prior to and during the First Zionist War.

I've been to prison. Prison is a joke. Prison is more boring than dangerous. Unless you are a skinny, and weak little bitch. That's why I tell you to be more like me big, strong and violent. You have to be willing to take a beating and give a beating. Focusing on revenge is just a mere distraction.

I have in essence a ten year plan for things. Most of which will remain hidden due to it's nature. I cannot give away all my secrets. However, unlike most people I am not a power hungry greedy Magian full of ignorance. Caring only for the pursuit of pleasure. I care not for pleasure, not for sex, not for friends, and not for anything or anyone besides my personal and Aeonic goals. My dreams of a darkly numinous society will be a reality.

Beyond the ten year plan in essence there are moves in play for the next hundred. After that up to a thousand years. While everyone else is playing checkers, engaging in pity internet drama, wasting time posting bullshit and other drivel I am working towards goals beyond what mere mortals could ever hope to achieve.

Only the idiotic, the moronic and the retarded would label me insane. And so what if I were? My genius lies not in insanity and I find no happiness in psychosis or bloodlust. I find happiness and seek happiness in victory and victory alone. What are words? Words are tools. Words are weapons. Why does the Magian ban and prohibit so much NS literature and Holocaust Denial literature if it were not great and not a clear and visible threat?

Because they know and fear the Aryan race. They know we are great and superior to all others. And that we were sent by the Dark Gods to led humanity ever upwards towards the stars. No other civilization, no other people, and no other individuals have ever come close to the Aryan and the ones built by Aryans. We only have Asians besides ourselves and some Arabs to thank. Yet we cannot hold the East dear as Aryans. It reflects racial weakness to prefer another race or culture to your own. And Islam is anti-evolutionary and degenerate. Anyone who read the old ONA MSS would know even Anton Long himself says Islam is useful as a tool but if it were ever global or widespread to the degree it became the accepted ideology then the world would decline. And those that think for a minute Anton Long has actually rejected all extremism and expresses remorse about anything are deluded. And even if he was sincere why does it matter? He left behind a legacy that has and will continue to reach far and wide. Never spoken to the man directly or indirectly but I have always seen him as a man to be surpassed. Yet I carry on his legacy as a living Sinister Tradition. No other system besides the Sevenfold Way offers adeptship and mastery. It is meant to be surpassed and gone beyond but the core tenets are axiomatic and will remain forever. No matter what form or name we give it.

A work does not need to be published or shown for it's effect to work. Via the medium of the acausal and this is also why I am great I am doing things far reaching far beyond what most are capable of. I am aiming beyond goals of mere fame, mere wealth, mere power, etc. I am living and breathing the Sinister Tradition but what's more I am expanding it. And beyond both of those things I am practicing Aeonics. That is to say I am living as a God amongst men. Aeonics is playing the role of God. That is what I am becoming as a God.

And why shouldn't anyone aim to be as such? Why because the church says no? Why because religion says no? Why because the materialist says it's impossible? Why because the prattling leftist says you can't be so megalomaniac so lofty you can't dream? Indeed most of my life I was told to believe I was ugly, stupid, useless, etc. It went on and on. Until I matured enough to realize they said all those things because I was the total opposite. Beyond all of this a few key individuals through my life have realized my genius. However, they lacked the bravado I did. The best example is my first girlfriend who while having Sinister traits could not and would not follow the Sevenfold Way. No other female since I've encountered had her abilities or capabilities yet she was a failure and doomed to a life of mediocrity. We would be both soaking it up as a Satanic power couple now otherwise. Instead let her waste her life and rot away. And take joy and laugh at the fact.

Those who deny magick particularly Internal Magick, the alchemical change process, and Aeonics are in fact beyond stupid. They are stupid to a level where it is unimaginable. They lack the experience and they lack the empathy with the acausal to be anything more than dabblers at best and detrimental at worse. The ONA has become weak and soft due to a lack of this Internal Magick. A lack of practicing and following the Sevenfold Way. The Sevenfold Way is the most difficult, most intense and most grinding path you can follow or walk. You cannot subtract the main fabric of it.

What is indeed the core or the main tenets? The key points are 1) insight roles — both personal and aeonic BOTH and taking on as many insight roles as possible sometimes dual without letting anyone know your true aims or objectives not your lovers, not your friends, not your family and not anyone not even your own temple guide should know why. 2) Culling — culling or human sacrifice is beyond what most can do. Most people cannot get their own hands dirty. However, it is best for us all if this is kept quiet and people keep their mouths firmly shut about culling. What has been said about it is quite enough. Yet it is still important to remind not just neonates but indeed adepts, and masters themselves how important it is. Assassinations, combat, terrorbombing, inspiring acts of terror and jihadist operations are ALL necessary. 3) Development of honor and empathy — none of these two are weak. Magians have no honor. It is the ethos of rat to have no sense or concept of honor only personal gain. Empathy in the sense of empathizing with not only the Dark Gods but the acausal itself. 4) Magick and rituals — yes indeed necessary and part and parcel. Starting from the beginning aspirations at trying to control one's personal life and then going on to control society. It is a link or chain of events which lead to this. However, it is important not to let this become a fetish. Seek not to become the next deluded occultist who collects tomes of useless books gathering dust. Remember he who stands atop the highest pyramid of skulls can see the furthest. 5) Crime, evil, heresy, ultra-violence, hate, rebellion, transgression and living as outlaw — all necessary. Again these cannot become fetishes but nor can they be denied. Passing moral judgements is for the Nazarene and leftist. Morality is a human construct not universal created to enslave the strong. 6) Living in the wilderness alone bereft of human contact. 7) Physical ordeals such as long distance running. 8) Genuine intellectual knowledge and wisdom; a love for Truth as Nietzsche loved Truth and a hate for the lie. 9) Manipulation and Sinister Shapeshifting — but one who manipulates their own kin their own kind ie another genuine Traditional Satanist is nothing more than a walking opfer. And one who lies to themselves is even worse than the worse of all liars. Shapeshifting into roles is necessary and not manipulation. It can be used for such but ultimately assuming and playing roles in the game of life leads to a life beyond what most can hope for. 10) Guiding others after a period of time on the path and continuing one's legacy after death. 11) The fulfillment of your own unique and individual Satanic destiny. 12) Passing through the abyss so you are beyond human and beyond good and evil in essence becoming Homo Sol — the next evolutionary step.

Aeonics cannot be neglected but ultimately it does not matter if have followers, if you have wealth, if you have power, etc. All that matters is YOURSELF. Your own Faustian quest. Your own destiny.

Anyone who gets in the way of your destiny once you realize it should be cut off immediately and crushed. Not for the mere purpose of revenge but they would deprive you of your birth right. What you were sent by the Dark Gods to do on this Earth planet. And ultimately that deprives us of the Day of Wrath. That deprives us of the Dark Imperium. That deprives the entire human race of evolution upwards. That is how important this mission is.

Most people are sick in the head and de-evolved into what I call to borrow from Vaisnavism sudras or below that sixth-form men. They are the lowest caste. Fit only for slavery. They cannot think, cannot reason, cannot fight, and cannot advance spiritually. They are as the Misanthropic Luciferian Order would say Clayborn. The ONA would say are mundanes. I call them for what they are normalfags. Normies or the normal or norman is nothing but a pathetic pile of dog shit that spews out nothing but piles of shit and with a reverse Midas touch turns everything you do into shit. Misery loves company. So does mediocrity. You can be dragged down by depending on others or develop co-dependency. You have to learn to be without others. Without support. Without anyone or anything but yourself.

So what then of the masses of humanity? Ultimately let them rot and die for if something is sick, weak, and anti-evolutionary it will be snuffed out by itself in due time. Most whites have similarly de-evolved from Aryan to merely white. There's really so many people to kill and so little time when you think of it. I think billions should die honestly. Billions. They don't do anything but take up space, consume, obey and infect others with their virus of slave morality.

The Magian are very clearly here engineered a plan. Outlined in the Kalgeri plan and in the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion where they seek to bring about the Messianic Age. Where they will mix Cultural Marxism and Islam together along with tenets of racial mixing and globalization to totally control and enslave the entire human race. What's more it seems indeed that the elites engage in such sickening unnatural sex acts as pedophilia and they appoint those who are pedophiles so they can blackmail them. Likewise they honeypot them with homosexuals and prostitutes. What's more they do seem to have their own Magian form of Satanism which is merely devil worship or reverse Christianity with some worship of demons or old forgotten Gods thrown in such as the Bohemian Grove and Moloch. You cannot deny all the evidence for this. The Illuminati bloodlines are all there. Research into things like MK Ultra, Project MONARCH, Castle of the Dark Mothers and Marc Detroux will show it is not mere fantasy. Especially now it is becoming an open conspiracy. The elites have shown themselves to be sick and twisted individuals who while engaging in the worse sorts of perversion and greed expect everyone else to play nice and do as they are told. With no culture, no traditions, no sense of honor, no sense of duty, no sense of loyalty and so on and so forth then anyone can be controlled. They may be planning far far more horrific things for humanity.

The fact they control people, have immense wealth and have immense power is unfair. There's two options here two brands of Satanism and two different tribes of people. One is the elite by birth and would keep everyone in slavery and chains and the other is those who seek to rebel like Satan. Rebel against an immense power where it could very well result in their own destruction. That is what Satan himself would do. We have the option to accept tyranny by sick weak old men with money who are sexual perverts and engage in laughable horror movie types of Satanism — but not actual Satanism devil worship it's still very much Nazarene in essence or to overthrow. Accept slavery or become master and leader.

The true elites are those who walk our path in it's truest form most often hidden and in secret whom have to pretend to be like everyone else for their own security and freedom or defiantly openly espouse open revolt. Sometimes it is necessary as I am doing to take a public role. You must risk for gain. And everything comes home to roost after a while. Either case we are the true and real elites. This is not arguable or open to debate. It is axiomatic. We seek the upwards evolution of humanity and the Magian seeks the enslavement of it. And in particular the noble Aryan race whose engineered genocide was written about centuries ago has an upmost important role to play as the guide and model for emulation.

There is a war going on between the two sides. And via sly, clever and underhanded tactics and gathering wealth and political power clearly the Magian is winning. So we can either admit defeat and offer ourselves up much like they offered children to Moloch. Or we can stand up and fight. And if we lose so what? It would be better to die than serve one day as a slave to the Magian. One day lived fearlessly is worth one hundred lived as a coward.

How could we defeat the Magian? It's only going to be via acts of terror and infiltration. Chaos, subterfuge, crime, and ultimately an all encompassing war. Perhaps igniting a civil war in a country such as America. And in the resulting chaos seize power. Or perhaps pushing society further down to collapse via overloading it with acts of violence, crime, terror, and destruction. Whatever is falling push it. Push it into the funeral pyre and watch Rome burn. Mutual self-assured destruction is better than surrender. Death is better than submission. Failure doesn't mean anything. True failure only occurs when you quit and give up. Go back to being soft, being weak, and being comfortable. When you reject your ideals and your work. When you instead take on the role of academician instead of role of terrorist, agitator, conspirator, or assassin.

So why am I so great? In essence it is because I recognize and realize the Truth. And in knowing the Truth I can either go back to slavery or march forward. However, the march forward is not an aimless directionless meaningless task of the nihilist. What's more I have been given a task and objective. A destiny to fulfill. And whether or not I am insane does not matter to me. Mere daydreams are not enough for me. Expecting someone else to come save you from your mediocre life is bullshit. Do not get me wrong I have lived a life already that few could or would. I have lived many different lives. And moved past all of them as any Satanist should. I am not consumed by greed or hunger for power.

I am consumed by a burning rage of hate towards all that would seek to enslave me. It is our destiny, that of the ONA, to rule over the weak — ie the mundanes — and not the right of the Magian. Strong leaders are needed now more than ever. And if I can't do it then it can't be done basically. Yet ultimately I do not care whether or not anyone listens to me. The fact would still remain I am above and beyond most people. Especially most peripheral individuals online. That are nothing but nobodies. Just unimaginative, envious, childish, greedy, and power hungry cucks.

Everyone forgets that everything naturally declines over time. However, the Sinister Tradition which is living and breathing and acausal cannot and will not die. It lives in all of us and will live in our children. And also as an idea, a way of life, and philosophy. You cannot kill, imprison or destroy an idea or ideas. Especially when they are true. The Magian would indeed and has tried throughout history to make ideas illegal that oppose them. And in reaction if such individuals watered them down then it attracted the weakling and the weakling made things worse. Until it created hard times and the hard times created strong men who created good times. It's a cycle. Due to trials, ordeals, traumas and tragedies I am forged very much in fire.

And why should I deny myself what I believe is my role as a leader? My Sinister Influence will over time become clear and rampant. Spreading like a memetic virus. Leaving behind a legacy. Whilst most individuals will continue to dabble, continue to waste time, quit, fail or pretend. Whatever happens happens. However, it is unlikely we can fail. It is just an impossibility. I cannot imagine a scenario where I fail. The ironic part of all this was like I said for much of my life I was timid and beaten down by inferiors who wanted to suppress me. Now I have become master and leader. Checkmating.

Time will tell whether or not things will come to fruition but why wouldn't they? Because I have ceased to care or fear failure. I have ceased to care if my personal information is public. I have ceased to care if I am well known or recognized. And when all is said and done I am not motivated no motivation isn't enough. It's been unveiled to me and via my intuition and internal senses I am guided and being guided by no other force than fate or providence itself to accomplish the unaccomplishable.

Naturally this will make me many, many enemies. And create much infamy. And cause more hardships and suffering. But I shall have no regrets and shed no tears. And if I die in the process I die. If I go to prison again so be it. If I end up a "failure" then so be it. There is no surrender. No quarter given. I will live by the sword and die by the sword. Seeking victory and conquest. Always seeking upwards higher and higher until I leave this Earth. At least I lived the way I wanted unlike most people. Most people are dead before they even get to the cemetery.

So in summary there is no real summary because to summarize this is to be facetious. You just need to know that the Order of the Sinister Moon is genuine Traditional Satanism following the Sinister Tradition. With appropriate upgrades and updates. Whilst keeping the core kernel of the Sevenfold Way and the Sinister Tradition. And I have the experience and ability to led it to victory. Unlike most Satanic orders which are full of pseudo-Satanists, pretenders, frauds, dressup halloween types, social rejects, etc. And I have no goal of wealth or power in mind. If these things come along with it then so be it but I could in actual fact care less. Wealth would only be nice insofar as I could focus on the Sinister full-time. Power would only be nice insofar as it can be used to influence more and terrorize the masses; a delight to the Satanist but terror to the Magian. I also have done Sinister Deeds and suffered much for the return of the Dark Gods on this Earth planet. And I do indeed continue to suffer tragedy after tragedy. But I will take privation over rainbows and chocolate rivers — this is the life I chose. This comes with the job description.

We cannot fail.
